Accredited schools

The Union Plus College Program provides higher education at an expanding network of colleges and universities from coast to coast. You can pursue a college degree in a number of select disciplines. All of the schools included in the program maintain regional accreditations.

Accreditation signals that an institution meets rigorous standards of academic excellence, faculty qualifications and student support.

You won't miss a day of work

Worried about fitting college classes into your busy schedule? Don't be. This program is specifically designed for working adults. All degrees and certificates offer online classes, so you can select and attend courses that suit your schedule. Some schools offer the option of in-person classes, too.

Ongoing support during your education

The Union Plus College Program works closely with each school to maximize your experience and your success.
